The World Affairs Council of Jacksonville and the University of North Florida are co-hosting an evening with Martin Indyk, director, Saban Center for Middle East Policy and senior fellow, Foreign Policy. He will address "The Arab-Israeli Conflict," an examination of the challenges facing a new U.S. administration in the Middle East. What should the U.S. be doing?

Join us at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 16, at UNF's University Center. Complimentary tickets are required. World Affairs Council members can reserve tickets through the Council's office at (904) 280-8162. Tickets can also be reserved at www.unf.edu or (904) 620-2117.

This event is sponsored by Water Street Capital.

Please see the attached bio and photo for Ambassador Indyk.

As one of the most prestigious citizen forums in Northeast Florida, the World Affairs Council of Jacksonville is a non-profit, non-partisan, educational organization devoted to engaging the community in discussions about global issues of today and tomorrow. Our mission is to promote an understanding of the world and its people and to engage citizens of Northeast Florida in becoming informed participants in the global community.

At the University of North Florida, students are our first priority. UNF recognizes that every student is an individual, with different goals, learning styles and needs. UNF has more than 16,000 students and offers five colleges of distinction: the Coggin College of Business, Brooks College of Health, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Computing, Engineering and Construction, and the College of Education and Human Services.
